If we can establish a connection between Nicholas White, and a Captain Gideon White, we can then go back to the inevitable Mayflower

On a recent trip to N.B., we found a second cousin in Knoxford, that we did not even know existed - Gerald Beckwith. From him we got pictures of Grandfather Charles White (your great-grandfather) and various great uncles and aunts.

↓ This man was a sea-captain who came to Nova Scotia at the time of the American Revolutionary war. I have big genealogy back to Peregrine White who was born on the Mayflower at the time of it's crossing to the New World. We do not know, however, if he is Nicholas White's father.

Re White Family

Who was Fanny White who married William Cunningham
Oct. 5, 1801

She was born Sep. 30, 1783 where?

She died Mar. 19, 1858 where?

Was she a relative of Reuben White of Sidney,
either sister or daughter, perhaps?

NB

Re Cunningham Family

Parents of William Cunningham who married Fanny White were Daniel Cunningham and Abigail Richmond Daniel Cunningham is said to have died in the States in prison at Richmond, Va. because, being a Quaker, he refused to bear arms, ~~down~~

Abigail Richmond Cunningham is said to have died in the early 1800's. In Canada?

Did she come to Canada with her sister Mary,
wife of Joseph Allison and other Richmond relatives?
